

Design by Jochen Schmiedem

Blue Moon

Not a bath but a pool tub

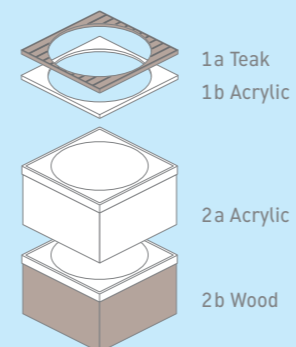

The more water, the more space, the more depth the better. With its square corpus and round tub, the Blue Moon whirlpool looks like a pool, and with its water depth of 530 mm it feels like one, too – despite occupying an area of just 140 x 140 cm. Immerse yourself in water with mood-setting coloured lights; the body is completely surrounded by water with only your back touching the tub, giving a pleasant feeling of weightlessness. Bathing in a pool? Letting yourself go? Floating? Pure relaxation? It's not easy to describe this sensational feeling. Suffice to say that Blue Moon is a unique bathing experience.

Highly versatile to match different architectural styles. Blue Moon can be installed either free-standing, in a corner or against a wall. The comfortable neck support and the teak bench with support and stainless steel clothes stand are attractive options.

As to style, the bath is based on the modular system. The bath panelling is available in acrylic and wood finishes Cherry Tree, Wengé and Helsinki Birch (décor) and American Walnut, Macassar and Ash Olive (real wood). The cover is available either in teak or pure, white acrylic.